How to Find a Journal Article in the Chamberlain Library

The Anatomy of an APA Reference Citation

1. First try copying the whole article title into the search box of the library home page with the Everything tab chosen.

2. Next try copying the whole article title into the search box of the library home page with the Journal Articles tab chosen.
3. Search to see if the Chamberlain Library carries the journal on https://chamberlain.on.worldcat.org/atoztitles#journal

4. If the journal is not found, then request a copy of the article by completing the interlibrary loan request form on https://library.chamberlain.edu/InterlibraryLoan

5. If the journal is found, then drill down to the year, volume, issue, page number, following the links.

Example #1 to search for the article from this citation:

6. If the journal is found, then drill down to the year, volume, issue, page number, following the links. Example #2 to search for the article from this citation:

A